The IndyLan project is building a mobile application to help speakers of English, Spanish, Norwegian, Swedish and Finnish to learn Gaelic, Scots, Cornish, Breton, Galician and Sami, as they learn in their own way. Our project's educational tool focuses in particular at helping people learn not just some of Europe's minority languages, but more about the cultures of the people that speak them.

The IndyLan app has about 4,000 words (both words and phrases) in about 100 categories. The areas in the application are: Vocabulary; Phrases; Dialogues; Grammar; Listening Comprehension; Culture.

Our vision is for the IndyLan app to foster the learning and teaching of minority languages to make sure that they remain relevant in modern societies and economies.

Project ongoing

The testing - Intellectual Property 3 is finished now. Thanks to everybody who gave us a hand with the testing and let us know their thoughts. We've made changes to the app and sorted bugs after the internal and external testing; your thoughts were very useful!

The IP3 testing outcome is now up on our website, where you can find a dedicated section about the languages of the IndyLan app, with videos and resources, with an overview of our outputs to download for you.

Mind, you can give us feedback on the app using App Store/Google Play ratings, or by emailing us over at info@indylan.eu
